CSC Relaunches eRecording Website

WILMINGTON, Del.—CSC, the leading nationwide provider of electronic and paper real estate document recording services, has relaunched eRecording.com to improve user experience as the destination for real estate document recording industry knowledge. The site now features a new look, enhanced functions, invaluable resources, and easier navigation for document submitters and government recording offices, as well as anyone looking for information on the real estate document recording industry.

“Our redesigned website represents our commitment to offer products and services that best meet the needs of our clients,” said Mark Rosser, senior vice president for CSC. “The new site features an engaging and intuitive design, making it easy for visitors to navigate the site and get what they need, helping them solve any issues related to the recording of real estate documents.”

CSC is the partner of choice for submitters of real estate documents and government recording offices nationwide and was first-to-market with an eRecording solution two decades ago. CSC’s proven technology meets customer needs, allowing for fewer rejections, effortless payments, and faster recording that is both secure and compliant with the rules of hundreds of jurisdictions nationwide.

“In addition to the site’s new look, we’ve expanded the content to offer our clients the most complete resource for all of their submitting and recording needs,” said Kevin Kinderman, director of eRecording solutions. “Just as our state-of-the-art technology makes it easy for clients to electronically record a real estate document, our website makes it easy for visitors to find the information they need to operate more effectively and efficiently.”

Document submitters and recorders interested in learning more about the benefits of electronic recording can visit www.erecording.com for more information.

About CSC

CSC provides a web-based, electronic document recording solution (eRecording) that allows document submitters, including title companies, banks, and law firms, to electronically record real estate documents with county offices throughout the U.S. Our system bridges the gap between submitters and county offices, and enables easier document creation on the submitter side and faster recordation, indexing, and acknowledgment on the recorder side. CSC was first to electronically record in the United States, and our services remain the benchmark for speed, efficiency, and security.
